SUMMARY REPORT
FT 930-I

June 1966

FOR RELEASE

NOV 1966

IMPORT TRADE BY COMMODITY

The Bureau of the Census, Department of Commerce, reported today that the increase in U.S. general imports, unadjusted for seasonal changes,[1] from $2,[illegible] million in May to $2,1[illegible].5 million in June,[2] reflected increases in [illegible] of the 10 Schedule A commodity sections. Individual sections showing sizable increases included: food and live animals; miscellaneous manufactured articles; mineral fuels, lubricants, and related materials; crude materials, inedible, except fuels; and machinery and transport equipment. Sections showing decreases [illegible] tobacco and manufactured goods classified chiefly by material.

DOCUMENTS DEPARTMENT

Leading commodities or groups of commodities registering increases from May to June included beef, fish, and sugar; clothing (excluding footwear); crude petroleum; iron ore and concentrates; nonelectric machinery; and automobiles, [illegible] and trucks. Among commodities or groups of commodities for which decreases were reported were fruits; coffee; aircraft and parts (civilian and military); and copper and alloys.

---

[1] On a seasonally adjusted basis, U.S. general imports during June were valued at $[illegible],114.[illegible] million. (See the June 1966 issue of Report FT 900-I.) Seasonally adjusted data are not available on a commodity basis.

[2] Month-to-month changes in imports and similar series often reflect primarily irregular movements. Cumulations of data over 3 or 4 month periods are desirable to identify underlying trends.

EXPLANATION OF STATISTICS

COVERAGE. Import statistics include merchandise imported by government agencies as well as by private importers, but exclude American goods returned by the U.S. armed forces for their own use. U.S trade with Puerto Rico and U.S. possessions is not included in this report but the import trade of Puerto Rico with foreign countries is included as a part of the U.S. import trade. Merchandise shipped in transit through the United States between foreign countries is not included in import statistics. However, the statistics may include some merchandise principally duty free, which is entered through U.S. Customs and subsequently exported in the same condition in which imported. In many cases, such merchandise differs from in-transit merchandise only in the manner in which it is documented.

VALUATION. The dollar value shown in the import statistics is defined generally as the market value in the foreign country, excluding the U.S. import duties, ocean freight and marine insurance.

RELIABILITY. Effective July 1965, monthly import statistics for individual commodities are based on full compilation of all shipments valued $251 and over (over 98 percent of the total import value) and are therefore free of sampling variability. They are, however, subject to some error due to the omission of all formal and informal entry shipments valued under $251 from commodity statistics. Prior to July 1965, monthly import statistics for individual commodities were based on full compilation of all formal entry shipments valued $100 and over (over 99 percent of the total import value) and thus subject to some error due to the omission from commodity statistics of all informal entry shipments (i.e. those valued under $251) and under $100 formal entry shipments. The statistics in this report are also subject to some error from such sources as the carryover of data from month to month in the compiling process and errors in reporting or processing. Although the effect of such errors on the rounded totals in this report is probably small, the possibility of inaccuracy should be taken into account particularly in using figures of relatively small magnitude. The largest variation from rounding of figures is $50,000.

Further information regarding coverage, valuation, compilation procedures and precision of import data is contained in the foreword of Report FT 125. For complete statement, see foreword in Foreign Commerce and Navigation of the United States.

U.S. GENERAL IMPORTS OF MERCHANDISE BY SELECTED SCHEDULE A COMMODITY GROUPINGS AND PRINCIPAL COMMODITIES JUNE 1966 AND SELECTED PERIODS

(Quantity in units indicated; value in millions of dollars. General imports are commodities imported for immediate consumption plus entries into bonded warehouse. Imports for consumption are commodities imported for immediate consumption plus withdrawals for domestic consumption from bonded warehouses. Figures for 1965 are as originally issued and have not been revised to include published corrections. Figures for 1964 include all revisions published with December 1964 reports, or earlier, but do not include revisions published during 1965. Totals represent sum of unrounded figures, hence may vary slightly from sum of rounded amounts)
